Wireless Phones On Uncle Sam's Lifeboats

(By United Press.)
Washington, Jan. 7.—Life boats of the Coast Guard are to be equipped with wireless telephone sets, which will keep them in constant communication with shore stations while engaged in rescue work at sea.

Wireless phones for the boats were successfully demonstrated during the recent Coast Guard meeting in Atlantic City. They were invented and perfected by the Bureau of Standards, which developed the wireless telephones used by American submarines during the war.

At the Atlantic City demonstration thirty-six foot power driven lifeboats communicated easily with the shore while five miles out at sea. Such communication was made possible by the use of a loop or rolled antenna. An aerial antenna is impossible on the lifeboats because everything above decks must be clear for line throwing and because of the heavy weather encountered.

OPENED GRAVE OF DAUGHTER; NOT PROSECUTED

(By United Press.)
Winona, Minn., Jan. 7.—City officials decided today to wait for a reaction of public sentiment before tampering with the graves of Francis and Joseph Bloch. Thomas Bloch admitted to Chief of Police H. C. Riebau that he opened the graves of his children last week.

Driven almost frantic by the death of five sons since the daughter Francis died five years ago, Bloch is said to have been impelled by a superstition to open the grave of his daughter and cut off the head from the body and place it at the feet.

He believed this was the only way to break the "evil spell" that had fallen on the family. He maintained today that with a neighbor he opened the graves last week. He said that when they found the bodies decomposed, they did not touch them.

Riebau said some people did not believe Bloch's story and had asked him to investigate. He conferred with Mayor E. L. LaFrance, City Attorney Nauf and County Attorney Simpson today. They all felt no action should be taken for a few days.

Public sentiment is such that it is doubtful if Bloch will be prosecuted even if it is found that he carried out the plan, it is said. Bloch went down and told the police he did not know he was doing anything wrong when he opened the graves.

Tokio, Jan. 7.—Viscount Shaingenobri Okuma, former premier of Japan, died here today.

APPROVAL RECEIVED OF PURCHASE OF OLD 1ST NATL. BANK BLDG.

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, Jan. 7.—Approval of the purchase of the old First National bank building by the St. Paul Federal Land Bank today was received with much interest here.

The purchase price is understood to be $175,000, about half of the total valuation of the property and the building.

It was offered by Louis W. Hill, chairman of the First National bank, and the Great Northern.

Reported in Washington
Washington, Jan. 7.—The Federal Farm Loan Board today approved the purchase of the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul of the building formerly occupied by the First National Bank to be the new home of the Federal Land Bank.

The building, which was erected less than ten years ago, was secured at a low figure, representing the assessed value of the land, and a very small per cent of the cost of the building, it was announced, but the Federal board, however, declined to give out the price.

The Land Bank will move into the new quarters March 1.

ENGLAND WILL ACCEPT RESERVATION TO 4-POWER PACT

EXCLUDING JAPAN PROPER FROM THE PROTECTIVE SCOPE OF THE TREATY

(By United Press.)
Washington, Jan. 7.—Great Britain will accept an American senate reservation on the four-power peace treaty excluding the homeland of Japan from the protective scope of the pact, it was learned today on highest British authority.

The decision on the part of Britain will make possible a prompt ratification of the treaty by the senate, many observers believe.
Great Britain's action, which is more significant because the British were responsible for the delegates placing on the treaty the interpretation that it included the main island of Japan, assures that none of the signatory powers would object to a senate reservation to meet virtually the only vital objection raised in the senate, the pact—framed to scrap the Anglo-Japanese alliance and preserve the peace of the Pacific.

Japan already, in informal negotiations between Secretary Hughes and Ambassador Shidehara, has approved exclusion of Japan proper from the protective features of the treaty, in fact, this interpretation aroused almost as much opposition in Japan as in the senate.

The United States, of course, is willing to accept the new interpretation and France is said not to be concerned either way.

It is probable that Arthur J. Balfour, head of the British delegation, soon will make an official announcement of his country's changed position.

NEWBERRY'S COLLEAGUE DEFENDS THE SENATOR

(By United Press.)

REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COM MEETS AT ST. PAUL TODAY

ANOTHER TERM FOR GOVERNOR PREUS AND SEN. KELLOGG THE TALK—PLANS MADE FOR COUNTY CONVENTIONS

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, Jan. 7.—Another term for Governor Preus and also for Senator Frank B. Kellogg was the talk at the republican state central committee gathering here today.

O. P. B. Jacobson for governor and Judge Oscar Hallam of the state supreme court, appeared to be the only opposition to the incumbents.

A meeting will be held at the Ryan Hotel tonight to form an organization to boost Judge Hallam for the nomination to the senatorship.

The Jacobson support did not appear to be well organized.

Plans were made for county, district and state conventions of the party to be held in March. County conventions probably will be called for March 18; district conventions for March 25, and the state convention March 31st.

The convention in March will adopt the first legalized state platform and endorse candidates. In the past, endorsements and platforms have not been recognized as legal.

Two committees are to be appointed at the opening of the meeting today. One was to frame the convention call, and the other to frame any resolutions thought necessary.

JOBLESS IN DECEMBER SHOWS AN INCREASE

Washington, Jan. 7.—Unemployment increased in the United States during the month of December by a percentage which the department of labor, in estimates issued today, fixed at 4.7. This was in spite of increased activity and larger payrolls which were reported from the textile, steel, metal products, leather and paper industries. Plants which produce foods, tobacco, manufacturers, automotive products and repair, railroad equipment all had fewer men on payrolls Dec. 31, than on Nov. 30. Concerns usually employing 1,500,000 workers reported forces less by 74,267 on Dec. 31, than on Nov. 30.

MARY GARDEN'S LIFE THREATENED BY AN ANONYMOUS WRITER

SENDS MARY BOX WITH REVOLVER AND CARTRIDGES—HOPES TO SEE BODY FLOATING DOWN RIVER

(By United Press.)
Chicago, Jan. 7.—A writer of poison pen letters, who has terrorized wealthy social matrons of Chicago's "Gold Coast," threatened the life of Mary Garden, director of the Chicago Grand Opera company.

Miss Garden received a box containing a revolver and six cartridges. The letter writer said she retained three cartridges for use on Miss Garden and "hoped to see her body floating down the Chicago river."

The case was reported to Chicago Police Chief Charles Fitzmorris by Miss Garden.

"Why the pig," was the only comment Miss Garden would make when asked about the incident.

Police and federal authorities have been looking for several weeks for the poison pen writer, threatening Chicago's social leaders. They were convinced the writer is a woman, probably mentally unbalanced.

About a dozen such letters were reported. They believe the one received by Miss Garden was written by the same person.

Extra police have been assigned to guard homes of those who have received letters.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF STOCK YARDS

SUPERCEDES STATE CONTROL, IN OPINION OF ATTORNEY FOR DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, Jan. 7.—Federal control of stock yards supercedes state control and Minnesota's railroad and warehouse commission must quit control at South St. Paul. This is the opinion of Bayard Neuner, attorney for the packers and stock yards administration of Bayard Neuner, attorney for the of agriculture made public here today.

The opinion, twenty pages in length, were sent to N. P. Rogers, chairman of the South St. Paul Stock Exchange by Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace.

Members of the state railroad and warehouse commission, traders and representatives of co-operative farmer organizations, are fighting to retain state control of the stock yards.

O. P. B. Jacobson, chairman of the railroad and warehouse commission, said he would carry the fight to the supreme court.

AMERICA MAY PARTICIPATE IN ECONOMIC CONFERENCE

FRENCH ATTITUDE ON LIMITATION OF LAND ARMAMENTS IS CHIEF REASON FOR NOT DOING SO

(By United Press.)
Washington, Jan. 7.—France's blocking in the arms conference of an agreement to limit land armaments and her stand against reducing German reparations, stands as the principal barrier to American participation in the international economic conference, called to meet in Genoa in March, it was learned here today on high authority.

Instructions probably will be sent to George Harvey, American ambassador to Great Britain, now attending the Cannes conference as an unofficial observer, on receipt of the official invitation to this country to an active part by it at the Genoa meeting. What part to take in the proceedings, the United States, it was learned, does not desire to participate in an European conference unless the nations of Europe themselves first evince a sincere intention of removing what this government believes are the real deep-rooted causes of the critical international economic situation.

THE KNITTED SUIT
IDEAL FOR TRAVELING

That garments of knitted fabric are growing in favor cannot be denied. One need not be a dyed-in-the-wool enthusiast of knitted underwear to feel confident that when the resort season get under way, the woman whose wardrobe trunk contains a variety of knitted outer garments will carry off the palm.

The girl who goes in for winter sports, as well as the girl who winters south, will hardly feel "in the picture" unless she has a collection of brightly colored scarfs, which may or may not match her hats. As a matter of fact a clever milliner discovered that these scarfs make attractive hats, the stripings or other decorative border providing the trimming for crown or brim.

The scarf sketched combines stripes with a blocked border, and does it without distributing one's sense of design. It is worn with a two piece knitted suit, the skirt black, excepting for its border, which is black and white, this design being repeated on the patch pockets. Pockets are an almost unfailing note in knitted things, so many interesting bindings and decorative features being possible in their construction.

This suit shows a nice restraint, by the way, in the matter of decoration. It would have been so easy to carry the border design on to the Tuxedo collar, or to have made the belt a more conspicuous detail. But the best makers of knitted underwear realize that there is a perfection of detail and of fit, which counts quite as much for merit as for decoration.

One senses, of course, that the belt is adjustable and the coat may be bloused or not, as one wishes. There is a preference for the slightly bloused effects for many women, particularly those who have left slenderness behind with their youth; they find that by this simple adjustment they obviate the possibility of the coat fitting too closely.

It becomes more and more apparent that knitted outer garments are not going to be allowed to remain the property of youth. Why should they be? It is not difficult for the older woman to wear them; besides, they are ideal for traveling, no matter what the conveyance. The non-crushable qualities of the knitted suit, whether it be silk or wool, or a fashionable blend of the two, should endear it to the traveler.

WILSONIAN IDEALISM

It is authoritatively stated that Woodrow Wilson has determined to commercialize the secret minutes of the Big Four and the Versailles Council of Ten. This determination, if carried out, will not add to the luster of the former President, although it may add to his bank account and possibly to his income tax return. Some of his critics point out that his idea of "open covenants" was to be "openly arrived at" at so much per covenant; that it was a journalistic idea—a plan for a "scoop"—and not one actuated by a deep-seated moral conviction.

The fact has recently been made public that these minutes, which were refused to the United States Senate, co-partner of the chief executive in treaty-making, were placed in the hands of a writer, said to be of somewhat radical tendencies, for preparation and publication in the New York Times. The Congress and the people of the United States are belatedly to receive this information, while the divulger and his assistant get the coin. What a commentary on Wilsonian idealism!

The head of the former Democratic hierarchy, having for more than two years denied the State Department, the Congress, and the people who elected him, the information contained in the Versailles minutes, is now, if reports are to be credited, about to divulge them in newspaper serial form, at so much per chapter.

NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCE

A national agricultural conference, to consider means of relieving the distress among the farmers of the country, which was suggested several days ago by President Harding, has been called by Secretary Wallace to meet in Washington Jan. 23.

The Secretary of Agriculture, in announcing the call, says it is expected that President Harding will open the conference. Invitations to those who are desired to attend the gathering are being sent out daily. The number of delegates, it is said, will be between 150 and 300.

These delegates, it is understood, are being selected not only from the agricultural interests, but also from those interests which are intimately associated with agriculture in the transportation, marketing and distributing of farm products.

It is expected that in addition to representatives of these allied interests, a small number of men who will be generally accepted as representing the public will be invited to the conference.

TARIFF ON TOYS

If the House provisions of the pending tariff bill are accepted by the Senate, toy imports will pay a duty of 40 per cent. Toys were assessed 35 per cent duty in the Republican tariff bill of 1909. The slight increase proposed will be nothing like prohibition, and probably not very restrictive.

Germany ran the American toy industry a hard race for the domestic market before the war. The wage scales of the two countries averaged about three to one in those days. America, of course, handling the big end. It would be difficult to say what the ratio is today, but wages have increased in this country from 50 to 75 per cent over 1913, while in Germany they have decreased by about those percentages. Hence the wage disparity, the prime reason for a protective tariff, is far greater than it was eight years ago. The German laborers are to be pitied, but American laborers have first call to our consideration. Germany today is very much on the job in marketing toys in the United States.

BONUS FOR VETERANS

A bill was introduced in the House of Representatives on Tuesday by Representative Husted of New York, a member of the House Appropriations committee, which provides for a division of the $11,000,000 foreign debt due the United States among the men who served in the American and Allied armies, on a half and half basis.

The bill would direct Congress to hold one-half of the total sum collected, including principal and interest, for the use of soldiers and sailors in the American forces, and their dependents, while the President would be directed to turn over the other half to the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and Portugal for the exclusive use of Allied service men and their dependents.

This in effect would be, that while the bill would call for the collection of the total debt, one-half of it would go back to the governments which paid it for a soldier bonus.

LOSS BY FOREIGN VALUATION

It is claimed in data and statistics on imports issued by the American Valuation Association, which is urging an American valuation on imports under the proposed tariff bill, that a loss of $100,000,000 to $500,000,000 a year to the revenue of the Treasury is taking place under the present foreign valuation clause of the tariff law.

Leslie M. Shaw, formerly Secretary of the Treasury, is quoted by the Association as its authority for the volume of losses to the Treasury under the present foreign valuation clause. The sum the Treasury is losing is going to foreign manufacturers and importers of foreign goods, and is serving to stimulate the volume of low-cost commodities and products being brought into the country, it is declared. The low costs, it is added, are not due as much to wage scales as to inequalities in foreign exchange rates.

Uncle Sam's public debt was reduced more than $180,000,000 during December. This reduction makes a total of more than $543,000,000, compared with December of 1920, and a reduction of more than $485,000,000 as compared with the total at the end of the previous quarter on Sept. 30, 1921.

According to figures from the offices of State Treasurer Rines and State Auditor Chase, Minnesota started out the new year with $8,583,446.97 cash balance and permanent state trust funds totaling $44,767,351.09.

The Rochester Herald notes that Emma Goldman's plans, as she says, "are extremely indefinite." The meaning of which, the Herald says, is that Emma is all dressed up with nowhere to go.

AMUSEMENTS

Vaudeville Big Feature at New Park Tonight

The "Song and Step Review" by Meyers and Nolan, will be the first act on the vaudeville bill at the New Park Theatre, for this week. This is indeed a rare and novel offering in the form of some excellent dancing and singing. Miss Nolan has a wonderful voice, ranging 5 tones above high C, while Mr. Meyers is the dancer deluxe, having appeared for three consecutive years in the famous Winter Garden, New York City. This act is new and comes very highly recommended.

Chase and Janis compose the second act, in "Dainty Musical Chatter." This act is unusually high class, and keeps the audience delightfully enraptured during the entire performance. They have special catchy songs, new comedy chatter and close with graceful dancing.

In the third act, Murray K. Hill will present one of the cleverest musical acts of the season. A very interesting feature is the fact that he has spent 11 years with three popular phonograph companies, the Victor, Edison and Columbia. Therefor, if you are a lover of good music, do not miss this act.

The fourth and last act on this bill are Yonie and Fuji, two Japanese artists of rare ability. Usually this class of people confine themselves to the exposition of feats characteristic of the land of the rising sun, but however there must always be a breaking of old ties, and upsetting standards, therefore Yonie and Fuji for the first time, with this end in view, offer an entirely new and original act which they call "A Japanese Classic."

The feature photoplay that is to be shown in connection with the regular vaudeville tonight, is "The Trail to Red Dog," a romance of the stage coach days, when the west was wild and woolly. Al Hart and Jack Mower are the stars in this picture, they are supported by an all star western cast. The patrons of the New Park will remember these two stars who were shown some time ago in "Rustlers of the Night." This picture is full of pep and will satisfy the most fastidious.

New Park Sunday

Allene Ray and Harry MacLaughlin are the stars in the photoplay "Honeymoon Ranch," at the New Park Theatre, Sunday matinee and evening. This picture, as the title signifies, is a mixture of love and romance of the western plains. There is just enough romance mixed with the thrills of the early days to make this story one that will be appreciated by all. The story is by Tex O'Reilly, and produced under the direction of Bob Townley. The comedy is entitled "In Again" and is a slide spitting mirth maker. "No Hope for the Drys" is the title of the scenic.

Neal Hart at New Park Monday and Tuesday

Do you know that the Mexican Mounted Rurales are just as efficient in their way as the Royal Northwest Mounted Police? See Neal Hart's unique new picture, "Kingfisher's Roost," and learn how the Mexican government tracks down its criminals and outlaws.

No money could buy any information about "Kingfisher." No man knew whence he came nor where he went. No one had ever been found who could describe his appearance. And yet he was the most notorious outlaw along the Mexican border. See the working out of this fascinating mystery in "Kingfisher's Roost," featuring Neal Hart, America's Pal. "Kingfisher's Roost"—a romantic mystery, in a romantic setting of the hills and valleys of Old Mexico.

Neal Hart is the star at the New Park Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

The second chapter of the new stunt Serial, "Hurricane Hutch" will also be shown tonight at the Lyceum.

Horse Race Thrills at Lyceum A big horse race promises a real thrill to audiences at the Lyceum theatre tonight only, when that old stage character comedian, Tom Wise, will be seen on the screen in "Father Tom," a role said to be particularly suited to his genial disposition. "Father Tom" is a true-to-life drama of love and service in a small community. It is said to be clean and wholesome, and genuine entertainment for all ages and all creeds.

The plot of this original story by Karl Krusader is concerned with the efforts of Father Tom to regenerate a disreputable roadhouse that is an evil menace to the young people of his community; his attempts to reconcile a mother and son; his matchmaking part in a little romance, and his struggle to pay off a mortgage.

"The Amazing Woman" at Lyceum

Who sets the moral code? By what right has one man to lay down a law that others must follow? Has any one the right to do evil that good may come? These are the problems that are set forth in "The Amazing Woman," the super-feature that comes to the Lyceum theatre on Sunday afternoon and night.

This gripping drama of human emotions has the splendid art of Ruth Clifford, a screen star of the first magnitude, together with the acknowledged ability of Lloyd Carleton in directing her and the large cast of well-known screen artists who have been employed to characterize the vital characters supplied to this story by the author.

"Fighting Mad" Big Western Special Coming to Lyceum

The athletic, adventurous stunts in which William Desmond indulges in his latest picture, "Fighting Mad," a Western super special which comes to the Lyceum theatre, Monday and Tuesday, are just the kind to appeal to this actor of the stage and screen.

Long before he had finished high school days he was an athlete of considerable prominence, being a leader in all forms of sport and playing on all the school teams. When he was but sixteen years old he won a prize for swimming the Hudson River from the New York to the Jersey shore.

Before he was seventeen he held the welterweight wrestling championship of New York. He is a skilful and experienced boxer and quite proficient with the sword, in addition to being one of the finest riders in the country.

Scene from "FIGHTIN' MAD"

"Fighting Mad" was adapted from the original story of H. H. Van Loan.

Ballroom Dancing.

The earliest form of ballroom dancing was the quadrille, started about 1815. This was followed by the lancers, invented in 1836. The polka was adopted in 1835. The waltz, which came from Germany, in 1793, did not become popular as a ballroom dance till later. The two-step is an American invention.

The November report of the Brainerd Cooperative Creamery company of 315 South Broadway, recently made public, reveals some interesting statistics.

JAPANESE FARMERS BEGIN TO ORGANIZE

Tokyo—(By Mail)—Japanese farmers are just commencing to feel their oats. That is to say, they're showing the first signs of the organization and group action movement that may ultimately lead to something approaching the farmers' organizations of America.

A community of tenant farmers near Tokyo struck for lower rent a few days ago. They simply walked out of the fields in the midst of the rice harvest and told the landlords the crops could go hang unless rents came down. The 600 farmers are still out, and the rice from something more than 1,000 acres they cultivated is lost. The movement caused a great deal of interest throughout Japan and is regarded as distinctly significant, in relation to the increasing strike spirit and growing tendencies toward organization among industrial workers in towns and cities.

The industrial labor movement is new in Japan. The so-called Samuel Gompers of Japan is under arrest on a charge of unlawfully encouraging strikers. The labor agitators path here is a perilous one. This is particularly true since Premier Hara's assassination, because immediately every person suspected of identity with any mass-movement became classified with dangerous agitators in the minds of the police.

However, new as the puny labor movement here is the "farmers' movement" is still newer. The feeling among observers is that it will develop and play a vital part in the increasing social movement now manifesting itself in Japan.

Newspapers, politicians and government leaders are giving thought, as never before, to the problems forced upon them by the farmers and industrial workers. The most important step is the preparation, by the government, of a tenant-farmer reform bill to be introduced in the Diet. This bill is the result of a year's investigation of conditions by a government commission and is the first step of this kind ever taken in Japan. Comment everywhere is upon the significance of the fact that for the first time in history Japanese farmers are acting with a spirit of class consciousness.

RUSSIAN RELIEF COMMITTEE MEETS

Governor J. A. O. Preus Appointed Mayor F. E. Little Chairman, Committee Met Friday

MASS MEETING IS CALLED

Date Set for January 17 at 7:30 P. M. and the Whole County Asked to be Represented

Russian relief is being considered by Crow Wing county. At the first committee meeting called by Mayor F. E. Little, named chairman by Governor J. A. O. Preus, committee members as designated by the governor were present Friday evening at the Chamber of Commerce and they included:

Mayor F. E. Little, Judge C. A. Albright, J. W. Fitzpatrick, R. L. Gustafson, Alderman Andrew Anderson and Mrs. D. M. Clark, all of Brainerd, and Mrs. W. B. Cook of Crosby.

The committee decided to call a mass meeting for January 17, at 7:30 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce, there to organize a county association, elect officers and transact other necessary business. Efforts will be made to have present delegations from Crosby, Ironton, Deerwood and other points of the range, Pequot, Crow Wing and other points of the rural districts.

In his letter to Mayor Little, Governor Preus stated:

The Minnesota Russian Relief committee desires to have a vigorous working committee in each county in Minnesota, and I am therefore taking the liberty of appointing you a member of the committee for your county.

You are doubtless familiar with the great need of relief in Russia. The great wheat region had no rain for five months. As a result there was practically no crop. The unsettled conditions resulting from the war and the change of government have 15,000,000 people in the area affected.

They are in desperate need of flour, milk, vegetable oils, clothing and medicines.

The American Friends service committee is efficiently organized to guarantee that American relief actually helps these starving people. Every dollar and every article given to the committee actually goes for relief. Administrative and transportation are raised separately.

In spite of the business depression, our state is still able to make contributions which will mean the saving of thousands of lives. As governor of the state, and also as representative of the Minnesota Russian Relief committee, I sincerely hope that you will accept this appointment. The state committee, which has headquarters at 397 Lincoln Bank Building, Minneapolis, will send you more detailed information regarding conditions in Russia and the work that will be needed here to furnish our share of an adequate relief fund.

Sincerely yours,

J. A. O. PREUS,

Governor

EPSOM SALT CHAMPION

Richard M. Johnson Sells 129 Pounds in Mo., Highest Record Announced by United Drug Co.

Brainerd has all kinds of champions from baseball pitchers to wrestlers, but today it hopped into added fame when it was discovered that the champion seller of Epsom salts lived in Brainerd and his name is Richard or "Dick" Johnson of the Johnson Pharmacy.

In the month of October he gained the laurel wreath and prize watch by selling 129 pounds of Puretest Epsom Salt, the highest record achieved in Minnesota.

A letter from the United Drug Co. of Boston, to Mr. Johnson reads:

"Despite the fact that we had closed the Epsom Salt contest on Dec. 17th we have decided to re-open it so that we can award you the gold watch for having sold the largest number of pound packages of Puretest Epsom Salt during the month of October in the State of Minnesota, 129 pounds!"

"Heartiest congratulations to you! Will you be good enough to send this department a photograph of yourself so that we may feature it in Ad-Vantages?"

As to what created the wonderful demand in Brainerd for Epsom salt is not known. There was no epidemic in the county. It may be that Mr. Johnson just talked Epsom salt, at every occasion and dilated on his curative powers. One pound can be made into 128 doses.

KARHUNSAARI WAS DEFEATED

Johnny Meyers, middleweight wrestling champion of the world, successfully defended his title in the match with Henry Karhunsari, former Southeast Brainerd wrestler, in two out of three falls, at the Shrine auditorium, in Duluth.

Karhunsari took the first fall, in 27 minutes with a body scissors and wrist lock.

Meyers took the second with a half-Nelson and body scissors after nine minutes.

At the third session, after seven minutes work, Meyers picked up Karhunsari and hurled him to the mat. The Finn's head struck the boards and he was completely knocked out. For a time it was feared his neck was broken, but after several minutes hard work he was revived and with the aid of his manager he was able to go to his dressing room.

American Women Reject French Dictation on Skirt Length

By HEDDA HOYT

(Written for the United Press)
New York, Jan. 7.—American women have definitely rejected French dictation on the length of their skirts.

Months ago Paris modistes declared that the long skirt was to be the coming vogue for women. American designers were ready to agree with them. In fact they will tell you now that the longer hem is here. Perhaps—but where?

Not on Fifth Avenue; not on Broadway; not on Hester street; not Main street, Gopher Prairie!

At the first announcement from Paris of the long skirt, magazines of fashion were filled with illustrations of long skirted mannequins; display windows immediately ignored the tapering calves of waxed models; cloth makers sat back in swivel chairs and chuckled at the thought. And what happened?

The flapper still flaps about in knee length skirt and hose of gauze, clinging to them because she knows in summing up her charms that legs are not least. The athletic girl in flat heels and woolen hose strides around in the freedom of her short, flaring skirt. And the matron whose years recall the germ-laden hems of yesterday awaits for someone with a less shapely ankle to hasten the style. In these days when a long skirt might suggest a physical defect, it is a brave woman who will attempt it.

Heretofore Paris has been a bright and shining symbol of style and chic. When Paris designers said short vamps, short hair, short corsets and short skirts, we wasted no time in "outshorting" them. But when they start enlightening, in the vanguard of the dough boy, we are not so "toot sweet."

White gloves are being supplanted by taupe and grays and even darker shades for dress wear.

The popular side panel effect for skirts can be used to utmost advantage on afternoon and evening gowns by hanging long strings of jet or pearl beads from the side waist line to the hem of the gown.

It is pleasing to see so many women wearing their hair in the real nature given shades lately. Henna and walnut stains to say nothing of peroxide, seem to have faded away. Even the younger faces have, now and then, a streak of gray surrounding their brows.

In speaking of coiffures, where, where, are the little cats which were predicted to show themselves this season?

Winter finds the every popular coat suit a trifle longer in coat length than the past few seasons. "Maroon," or chestnut brown, seems to be the prevailing shade for suits and lends itself admirably to fur trimmings such as sable and kolinski.

The latest shade used for undergarments comes from Paris and is called rose-beige. It has more of a flesh tone than what formerly we termed "flesh" as the introduction of tan might suggest.

BRAINERD STATE BANK

Statement of Condition of Bank as of December 31, 1921 Shows Increased Deposits

The statement of the Brainerd State bank as of December 31, 1921, is a very gratifying one. It shows deposits of $475,348.60; a surplus fund of $15,000; undivided profits net of $6,091.52. The amount of reserve required by law is $34,730.33 and the amount of reserve on hand was $54,230.13.

The Prison System.

In ancient times prisons were private affairs, used to remove rivals or enemies. The first application of the prison system as a punishment for crime came in the establishment of workhouses in London, in 1550. Prisons started as reform institutions in 1704, when Pope Clement XI organized the criminal ward of the Hospital of St. Michael in Rome, as a means to aid the criminal rather than punish him.

No Proof of Race of Giants.

Buffon and other naturalists of his time believed that human beings from 10 to 15 feet in height had once inhabited the earth, but this idea is now entirely discredited.

Most Destructive Earthquake.

The damage done by an earthquake is generally limited to a small area, but the great quake that occurred in Assam, in 1907, was destructive over an area of 150,000 square miles.

Meanest Dog

St. Paul, Jan. 7.—The meanest dog in the world has been found. His name is "Jerry" and belongs to the official dog catcher.

Many of the dogs who are sentenced to death at the city dog pond owe their loss of liberty to Jerry.

He rides on the hood of an automobile in which dogs are taken to the pond.

When an unlicensed dog is sighted the automobile stops and Jerry jumps off and makes the acquaintance with the stranger.

During the exchange of greetings, the dog catcher loosens his wire loop and snares the unsuspecting canine.

Then Jerry resumes his perch atop the automobile hood and search for the next victim is begun.

Had Criminal Careers

Devils Lake, Jan. 7.—At least three of the four bandits sent up here are believed to have previous criminal careers. Ed Wilson and Harry Smith are believed by George Buttress, Sioux Falls policeman, to be two of the men who escaped while he was searching their cars after firing two shots one of which removed the finger and the other wounding him in the groin. Buttress made his identification from pictures.

Joe Dell, another of the quartette is wanted on a charge of desertion from Leavenworth.

The men were sentenced to five terms totaling seventeen years in Bismarck penitentiary for carrying concealed weapons, theft of automobile, burglary at Church's Ferry, N. D., and Karske, N. D.

They are thought to be allied with three bandits captured in Cass county who were sentenced to three years at Bismarck. It is thought the two gangs when captured were to join and perpetrate robbery at Pillsbury, N. D.
